BLOND CLINGS TO NEGRO

MINNEAPOLIS GIRL QUILTS HOME FOR JACK JOHNSON.

Pugilist Defies Mother—Young Woman Insists She Loves Black and Hopes to Marry Him.

Chicago.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavy weight champion pugilist, appeared before Chief of Police McWeeney to explain his relations with Lucile Cameron, 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cameron Falconnet of Minneapolis.

The girl is described as a striking blonde of a well-to-do family. Mrs. Falconnet told of her failure to get her daughter away from the influence of the negro.

Johnson made an absolute denial of unduly friendly relations with the young woman. He denied the report that his infatuation for the Cameron girl was one of the causes for the suicide recently of Mrs. Duryea Johnson, the champion's wife.

Miss Cameron was taken into custody after she refused to leave her companion in Chicago and accompany her mother to Minneapolis.

She was arrested on complaint of her mother, but was not booked. She is said to have been living in the flat of Jack Curley on Sheridan road.

"I can not go back, and I won't go back to Minneapolis," said Miss Cameron, who appeared unaffected by the pleadings of her mother.

"I expect to become the wife of Mr. Johnson shortly, although he has not proposed marriage to me. I love him and want to stay in Chicago."

Jack Johnson, in a statement, said: "I can't help it if white women become infatuated with me and follow me around. If Miss Cameron loves me that is her business and her's, as she is old enough to know her own mind by this time."

Optic, Hurt in Auto Crash, Taken Out to Forestall Blindness—Operation Successful.

MADERO ASKS FOR MONEY

PRESIDENT NEEDS $20,000,000 TO SUPPRESS REBELLION.

Feeling So Strong Against Mexican Executive That House of Deputies May Disregard Message.

Mexico City, Mexico.—Facing the most serious revolt since he became president, Francisco Madero sent an urgent message to congress demanding authorization of a new loan of $20,000,000 to make war upon the allied insurgents.

So strong has the opposition become, however, in the house of deputies that it is regarded as doubtful that the message would receive serious consideration. Reports that the local garrison has revolted and soldiers will be marching upon the national palace, caused intense excitement.

Thousands of citizens fled into the streets and surged toward the presidential palace, but a heavy patrol of mounted police suppressed serious outbreaks.

There is a strong Diaz sentiment here, but the police have orders to arrest any person creating a political disturbance. This order is aimed at anti-Madero demonstrations in the streets. A battle between federal troops and the Diaz rebels is expected near Cordoba. A heavy force of rebels has advanced to that point and government forces were sent over the Inter-Oceanic railway to dislodge them.

BULLET LOCATED BY X-RAY IN T. R. RIGHT CHEST

BALL FOUND TO BE FLATTENED AND IMBEDDED IN SHATTERED RIB.

BLOOD POISONING ONLY FEAR

Injury Announced to Be Healing Normally With No Infection Indicated—Condition Described as "Very Satisfactory."

Mercy Hospital, Chicago.—The bullet wound inflicted in Theodore Roosevelt's chest Monday night, it was officially announced for the first time, is healing normally without infection.

The statement that no complications have shown themselves was made after a day, during which the first successful X-ray picture which has been made of the wound in the colonel's chest was examined by the surgeons.

The fact was developed that the would-be assassin's bullet fractured the colonel's fourth rib.

The missile remains imbedded apparently in the bone. The fracture, however, it is stated, will not affect the patient and will heal without treatment.

This description, given out by Dr. McCauley, was the first given to the public by the physicians. He said the bullet's path through the chest is "located to some extent by the battered lead, but that there was little contusion and no extensive area of bruised and extravasated surrounding tissue."

"The bullet did not mushroom as might have been expected," said Dr. McCauley, "for that reason it cut a comparatively small hole in the skin and did not reduce a large portion of the nearby tissue to pulp as is the case in a soft bullet that mushrooms in animal tissue after it hits a bone."

"I think the bundle of papers checked it and the spectacle case for some reason failed to spread the bullet much."

"The wound is about big enough to put your finger in at the surface and does not appear to get very much bigger. I would call it a clean wound."

"The skin is torn at the surface in a ragged way, but not badly, and there is little bruising."

"There is not a sign of supuration in the wound."

"The flesh is in good condition and seems to be healing without any evidence of complication. If there were pus forming deep in the wound, we would know it at once by an unusual rise of temperature."

Dr. McCauley added that it now is certain from the X-ray pictures that the bullet has not entered or injured the pleural cavity, removing a grave possibility in the case.

He pointed out the normal condition of the patient as indicated by the official chart taken at 10 p. m.

Dr. McCauley's statement was given after leaving the colonel's room and after a consultation with the other surgeons. He confirmed previous announcements that no attempt would be made at present to remove the bullet, which is not expected to hinder the healing of the fractured rib.

"This case," he added, "will not be like that of the late President McKinley, whose sudden hopeless turn toward the public by surprise. There is nothing to be expected here, but if anything in the way of dangerous symptoms do develop they will be made public at once."

Among the telegrams received by Col. Roosevelt during the day were from the king of England, emperor of Germany, king of Denmark and Sir Cogan Doyle.

Several hundred messages were received from all parts of the world. It will be necessary to set Col. Roosevelt's fractured rib or put him in a plaster of paris bandage, according to Dr. Terrell. "Fractures of the rib seldom are set unless the bone is out of place," said Dr. Terrell. "This one is not extensive enough to call for treatment of that sort."

Abbottford, Wis.—"My son had eczema on his hands for about one year. The eczema started with a rash. His hands were sore so he could not close them, and when he wet his hands they hurt him so he could hardly wash. His hands itched and burned just terrible and if he would scratch them, they would break out into sores. He could not get any rest or sleep, and his hands looked quite bad."

Tuberculosis Day Oct. 27.

Cordial approval and indorsement of Tuberculosis day which will be observed by the churches of the country on October 27, is expressed by President Taft in a letter to Homer Folks of New York, president of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. From present indications, Tuberculosis day will be observed by almost every religious denomination in the United States and not less than 50,000 sermons on tuberculosis will be preached on October 27, or in the weeks preceding or following that date.

Open Air Schools Grow in Favor.

With the opening of the fall school term, over 200 open air schools and fresh air classes for tuberculous and anemic children, and also for all children in certain rooms and grades, will be in operation in various parts of the United States, according to the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. All of these schools have been established since January, 1907, when the first institution of this character was opened in Providence, R. I. On January 1st, 1910, there were only 13 open air schools in this country and a year later the number had increased only to 29. Thus, the real growth in this movement has been within the last two years. Massachusetts now leads the states with 86 fresh air schools and classes for tuberculous, anemic and other school children, Boston alone having over 80. New York comes next with 29, and Ohio is third with 21. Open air schools have now been established in nearly 50 cities in 19 different states.
